

Houston Executive Airport Completes 12,000 square-foot Hangar

BROOKSHIRE -- (June 1, 2010) – Corporate leasing space continues to be in high demand at Houston Executive Airport (KTME) prompting construction of a 12,000 square-foot hangar.

Completion of the hangar brings total aircraft leased space to over 83,000 square feet which includes a 26,000 square-foot corporate hangar completed in 2009.

Andrew D. Perry, A.A.E., said the new spec hangar for lease includes office space and restroom facilities.

“This is a great location for corporate hangar and office space,” said Perry. “It’s just another level of service, convenience and amenities that we offer the Houston market.”

Perry said the business aviation community has come to expect a high level of service and amenities at Houston Executive. “Since we opened our doors in 2007, we have raised the bar on general aviation facilities, and we will continue to seek ways to meet the needs of our customers with unmatched service and value.”

Located near Houston’s energy corridor, Houston Executive Airport is a private commercial development established by Ron Henriksen, a Houston businessman and pilot with over 40 years in the aviation industry. The airport caters to business and general aviation aircraft. With an eye for coming growth, Henriksen has long-range plans for the airport’s runway to be extended from 6,610 feet to 7,604 feet to accommodate larger jet aircraft.

The airport boasts first-class amenities including 24-hour aircraft fueling, ground handling operations, rental and crew cars, crew lounge, catering services and complimentary wireless internet access.

Corporate client Don McGill, owner of Don McGill Toyota is among the airport’s satisfied customers.

"I highly recommend Houston Executive Airport because of the unparalleled service, the friendly atmosphere and the professionalism of the team Ron Henriksen has put together at this first class facility," said McGill.

In addition to Houston Executive Airport, Henriksen is currently developing Austin Executive Airport which will open later this year.

"This expansion is a testament to the real need in the business aviation community for an alternative to the city's crowded airports," Henriksen said. "We are delighted to meet that demand while positively impacting the local economy as well."

Houston Executive Airport is located at 1900 Cardiff Road, Brookshire, Texas 77423.
